During the past several years, there have been tremendous changes in our lives: advancements in electronics, space travel, ballistics, medicine, and chemistry — and too many others to list here. Who knows what the future holds? When we entered Mastbaum, we had many future plans. One of them is being realized — graduation. This scientific age has created a need for technically trained people. Leaders must be furnished for the business world. Changing times are never ending; but as we leave Mastbaum to enter industry or to further our education, we know that we have been well prepared to meet the future.

DEDICATION

During the past thirty years mankind has been credited with some remarkable accomplishments. At present, we are in the midst of what is known as the space age; and as the world progresses, our schools must also progress, for the youth of today must be prepared to be the leaders of tomorrow.

We have been most fortunate in having outstanding teachers at Mastbaum — men and women who are constantly striving to keep pace with an ever-expanding world of knowledge in order that they may be better qualified to teach the youth of today.

We take pride in dedicating this record to those who have served Mastbaum for the past thirty years. They came to the school when the doors were first opened, and they have used their skill and ability to help mold our school into what we know it as today. They have watched many classes come and go and with each new term have found themselves to be a little more capable of guiding those in their charge.

For their past accomplishments, their unexcelled service, and their constant efforts to improve Mastbaum, we, the graduating classes of 1960, feel we owe these teachers our thanks.

WE LOOK FORWARD WITH OUR PRINCIPAL

A good friend, past, present, and future, Mr. Patterson.

Dear Graduates:

While perusing a yearbook publication of an eastern college I noticed their theme was "There is a past which is gone forever, but there is a future which is still our own." The complete theme in my mind is subject to critical inspection.

With our theme, "Mastbaum aims for the future," we are able to look forward, fortified by the experience in the past which we have acquired here at our beloved school. I cannot concede that the past is gone forever, especially where our Alma Mater is concerned. The things you have done, and the associations you have made while here will be etched on your lives forever.

Your teachers have strived to give you two areas of experience, the first of which is trade competency so that you may be self-supporting; and the second, to prepare you to assume the responsibilities of adult citizenship in our democracy.

When former graduates return, we, the faculty, are proud to see that our efforts have borne good fruit. We shall be proud of you, too, when you return.

Sincerely,
D. Finley Patterson
Principal

. . . . . AND VICE PRINCIPALS

To the Class of 1960:

Due to the advancement in the many technological fields of our industrial world it is predicted that the next ten years will be known as the "Golden Sixties."

Your future is aimed directly at this decade. You now have the fundamental tools of learning. You live in a community where your future development is unlimited. You have been aimed toward the future. I feel confident that you can achieve success in your future home, job and community.

Best wishes for success and happiness in the future.

William W. Renshaw

Our thanks to Mr. Renshaw for planning our Junior Prom.

Whenever you are faced with a difficulty, look for the opportunity in it, instead of being frightened by the task of overcoming it.

Preparation is the key which helps open the door to opportunity. Whether you plan to go into industry, business, or on to higher education, you will, no doubt, pause to reflect upon how well you have prepared yourself for the future.

Thoreau once said, "Only that day dawns to which we are awake." His meaning has been clear to most of you, for your days at Mastbaum have had this goal in view.

May you, the graduating class of 1960, be ever alert to make the most of your opportunities.

Edmund H. Thomson

Special thanks to Mr. Thomson for his guidance throughout our high school years.

CO ORDINATORS

The coordinators are divided into two groups. Mrs. Beiber, Mr. Rudder, Mr. Barr, and Mr. Spector are the trade coordinators; Mrs. Hille and Mr. Butler are the collateral subject coordinators. One of the chief duties of the trade coordinators is to visit industry and keep the curriculum in vocational schools up to date, in line with modern industrial processes, and consistent throughout the various grades. The trade coordinators also attempt to place the students in jobs which commensurate with their ability.

The coordinators of collateral subjects are responsible for seeing that the courses of study for academic subjects maintain the standards that are required for success in business and industry.

The coordinators are always ready to offer their advice and their help whenever it is asked of them by a student.

MR. EDWARD M. BUTLER
Co-ordinator of Mathematics and Science.

MRS. ANNA W. BIEBER
Co-ordinator of Commercial and Home Economics.

MR. RANDOLPH R. BARR
Co-ordinator of Auto Mechanics, Wood Shop, Textiles, and Music.

COUNSELORS

During this year, as in past years, the counselors have taken care of the many problems brought to their attention by the students. Most problems dealt with by the counselors concern health and education. The latter have been brought about by the increased interest in higher education on the part of the students.

Mrs. Whitney, Mr. Storm, and Mr. Hymes are always willing to lend their assistance, in any way possible, to help an individual cope with his particular problems.

MR. PHILIP HYMES

Chairman: College Guidance Program.

MR. HENRY C. STORM

Chairman: Military Services.

MRS. LENA B. WHITNEY

Chairman: White Williams Foundation Scholarship; Brith Sholom Citizenship Awards.

MR. NATHAN MIRELL

COMMERCIAL ART

The Commercial Art Department, under Mr. Mirell, is turning out some of the finest art work in the city.

Related art, with all its many projects, is taught by Miss Bailey.

Our art department has continued to grow and improve with each new term.

RELATED ART

A Little Designing.

MISS ALICIA L. BAILEY

Sponsor: Charity Program

MR. RALPH A. REAN

DESIGN AND DRAFTING

MR. JOSEPH McLEES

Those in the Machine Design and Drafting Department are required to have high mathematical and scientific ability and a technical curiosity.

The students learn to present, in graphic form, the ideas and information necessary to carry on industrial activities.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

This course helps to prepare all Mastbaum boys to work in their respective trades.

Our boys learn blueprint reading, freehand sketching, pictorial representation, and orthographic projection.

This training assists the boys in those phases of their trades which deal with the abilities to read, interpret, and make blueprints.

MR. EUGENE RIEGLER

MR. JOHN J. ROSELLE

MACHINE CONSTRUCTION

MR. HAROLD J. SCHELL

MR. CHESTER J. SOKOWLOWSKI

The Machine Construction Department teaches the boys to operate machine tools such as the lathe, the milling machine, and the drill press, and several others.

This department is turning out boys qualified to be tool makers, production machine set-up men, and general machinists.

TEXTILES

The purpose of the Textile Department is to teach the basic facts of the textile industry. This department, under Mr. Huss, teaches its students to paint designs, make warps, run winding machines, and make rugs. With this training, students are prepared for their future jobs in the industrial world.

MR. CHARLES C. HUSS

MR. PASQUALE A. BRUSCIA

MR. WILLIAM BUETTGER

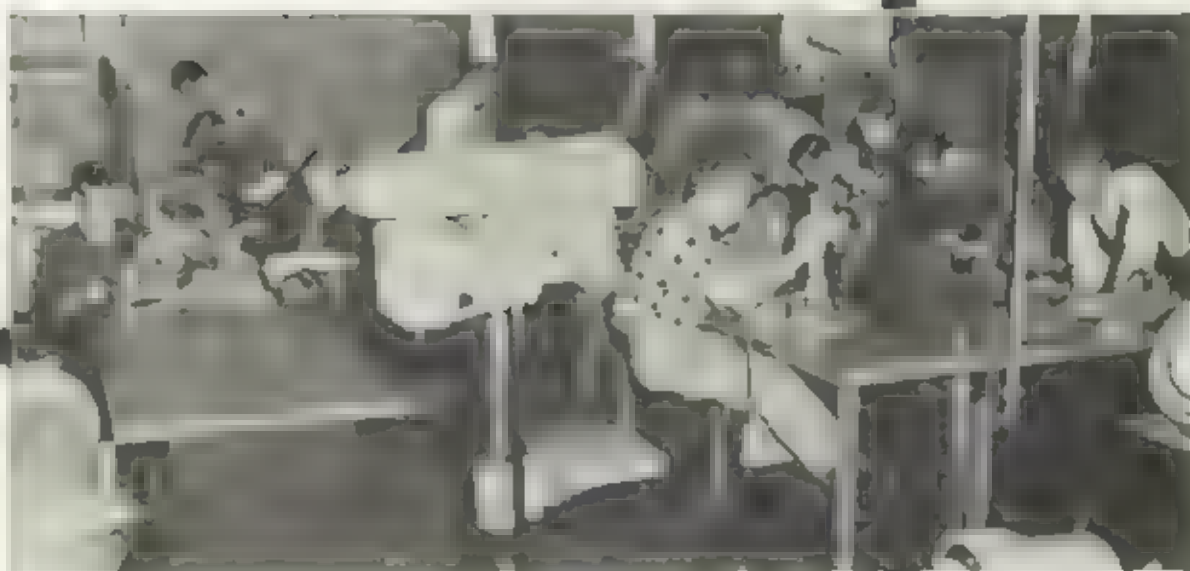

MR. EDWARD M. BRABENDER

MR. MONCURE ROBINSON

ELECTRIC

The Electrical course consists of two phases. All students taking the course study general applied electricity during their first three terms. In their fourth term all students study radio and television. In their senior year the boys are permitted to select either industrial electricity or radio and television as their major field of study.

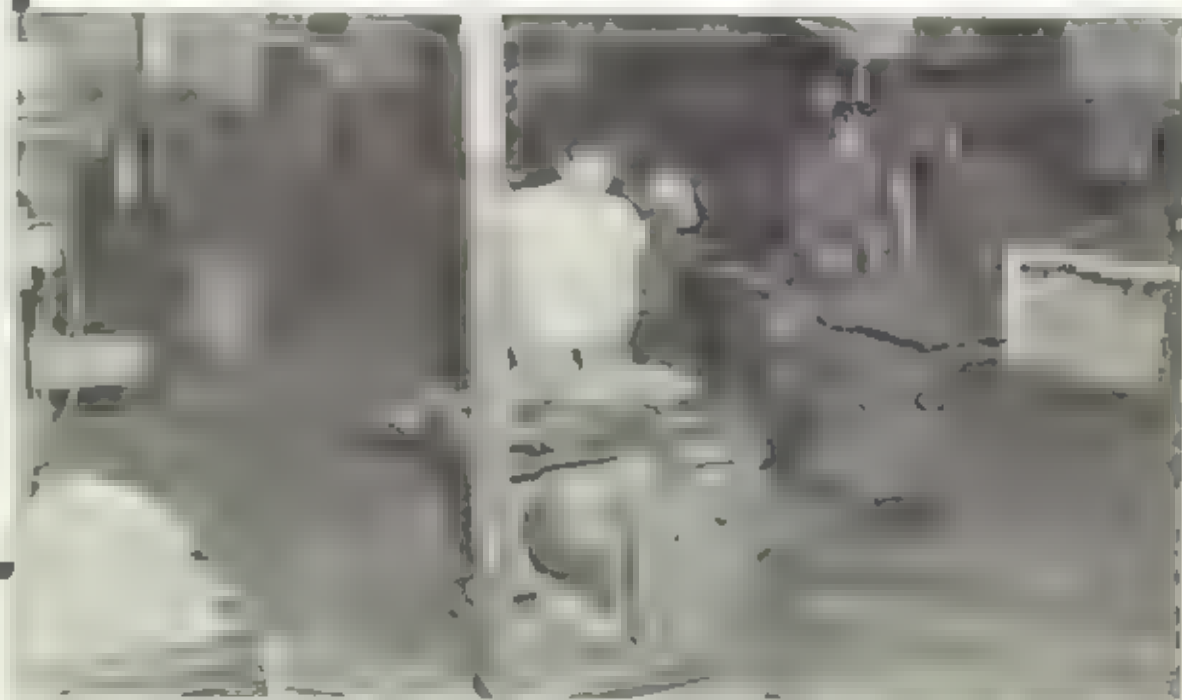

MR. DONALD H. WEIKEL

MR. ROCCO NACCARATI

WOODWORK

Those boys taking wood shop gain experience in the several trades of the industry. They do construction work, cabinet work, and they also make storm windows and furniture. Some of the boys work in furniture shops, upholstery shops, and mills where their wood working skills are most valuable.

Track. Sponsor: King and Queen of Safety Contest.

The Driver Education Program is open to any student sixteen years of age or over who has the consent of his parents to drive a car.

This course helps the students realize the responsibility of handling an automobile, and prepares them to be careful, courteous, and conscientious drivers.

DRIVER EDUCATION

The auto mechanics department trains its students in ignition, carburetion, electrical, and motor work. During the last half of their training, the boys are permitted to work on cars in the school garage.

MR. ANTHONY DIUNNO

Coach: Cadet Baseball;
J.V. Football.

MR. WILLIAM PFAFF

MR. FRANCIS A. KLUNK

MR. THOMAS D. FLOCCO

AUTO MECHANICS

COMMERCE

Our Commercial Department prepares students for two major fields of endeavor; general commerce and stenography. All students are prepared as typists and bookkeepers.

Under the supervision of skilled teachers, our commercial students are trained to be the best in their field.

Some of the other subjects included in the commercial course are: clerical practice, duplicating, machine calculation, and business deportment.

Our librarian, Miss Baron, assisted by Mrs. Baritz, has been, and always will be, very helpful to any one who needs assistance in making a selection in the library.

OUR ANNEX

MR. ALBERT BENSON

MRS. MARY SPRAGUE

Because of the limited classroom space within Mastbaum, we have been using the Russell H. Conwell School as an annex for 10th grade commercial girls.

Math, English, Social Studies, and Hygiene are taught at the annex. the girls return to the main building for their commercial subjects.

MR. MILES SILBERSTEIN

MISS BERNADETTE GOMON
Sponsor: Service Club

This year, as in previous years, we are proud to welcome several new additions to our ever-changing faculty.

We are fortunate to have these new teachers with us, and we hope to make them as proud of being a part of Mastbaum as we are ourselves.

New Admissions to the Faculty

MR. LEONARD AGRONS

M. HUSKEY

Philadelphia Area Contest Winners

Martha Huskey placed first at Mastbaum and first in the Kensington area in the "Employ the Handicapped" essay contest. Kathleen Nuskey was judged second best in the Mastbaum group.

Each year the Governor's Committee for Employing the Handicapped sponsors an essay contest in all public and private secondary schools throughout the state.

LOOKING AHEAD

Mastbaum Vocational-Technical School is known throughout Delaware Valley as a school striving toward the future. The aim of every graduating class has been to uphold its good name and reputation.

When we began three years ago, the staff knew what industry wanted, and what the future requirements of industry would be. With these thoughts outstanding in their mind, they undertook the task that culminates with our graduation. Working to build a better future for industry, has been, and will remain, the chief project at Mastbaum.

As years pass and as class after class leaves, the aim of Mastbaum's faculty will remain unchanged. Each class leaves well prepared and well trained. As Delaware Valley achieves even greater success in the future, the demand for better men and women will be intensified. Those at Mastbaum are dedicated to that ideal, that Mastbaum will do more than its share to provide its quota of highly trained, well-rounded citizens.

VALEDICTORY January 1960

Parents, friends, teachers, we welcome you tonight. With mixed feelings we have awaited this day of graduation. It marks both an ending and a beginning of an education for us. This is the moment when the class of January 1960 pauses for a few brief hours before it becomes but a memory. We stand here as a group, but to each one of us this is a ceremony that is individually his.

The memories and ties, made clear by long association, will not be easily forgotten. Just yesterday, it seems we entered as total strangers — childlike, full of curiosity, seeking guidance. We grew together sharing and learning — preparing for today.

To our parents and teachers who have suffered with us, laughed with us, and above all imparted their wisdom and experiences to us, we thank you and beg your pardon for our wrong doings. You were the instrumental factor in the development of our moral characters. Through your earnest wish that we learn responsibility in the world, you were always ready with wise suggestions, though leaving the ultimate decisions in our hands.

Today we reach another milestone in our lives: taking with us the goals and aims of our school — academic excellence and pride of civic responsibility.

As part of our vocational guidance at Mastbaum, we have been trained in the skills, the understandings and attitudes that make us intelligent and productive participants in economic life.

From our academic studies we have learned to use and appreciate our leisure time well and to budget it wisely. We have grown in our ability to think rationally, to express our thoughts clearly and to read and listen with understanding. We have learned to understand the scientific method and its implications in an atomic age. We have had opportunities to develop our appreciation for beauty in literature, art, and music.

We have been taught to understand the rights and responsibilities of citizens in the community, the state, the nation, and the world. As part of our civic and social duties we have learned to respect individualism. We have grown in our insight towards ethical values and ethical principles, and to be able to live and work cooperatively with others.

At this time we enter the industrial world, taking with us these tools. But how do we find this world? What problems do we face? How can we hope to utilize what we have been given?

We are entering the world in the midst of a great struggle. Two governments are pitting divergent economic systems against each other. Each side has armed itself. A race involving lunar rockets, satellites, and the threat of nuclear destruction goes on. This has become a war of technical "know-how". But is this to be the goal of education — at the expense of human dignity? Mastbaum and other vocational schools foresaw that a race of "automatons" would not be the answer and wisely included in its curriculum those subjects essential to the well-rounded citizen. Every day Mastbaum graduates are filling the need for stenographers, clerks, engineers and technicians — trained not only in their respective trades, but fully aware of the high ideals and precious concepts which make our country great.

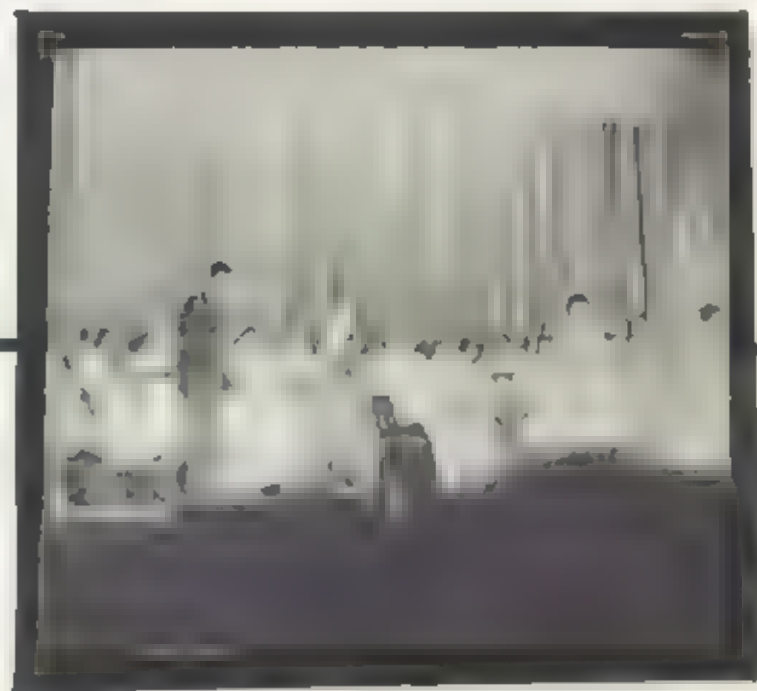

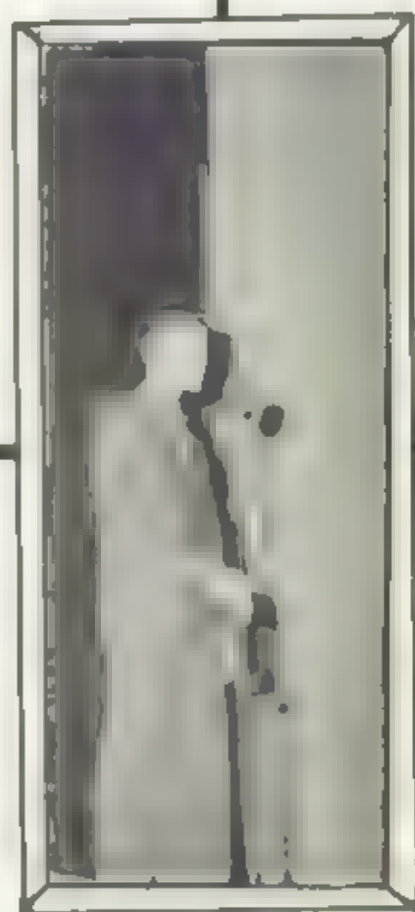

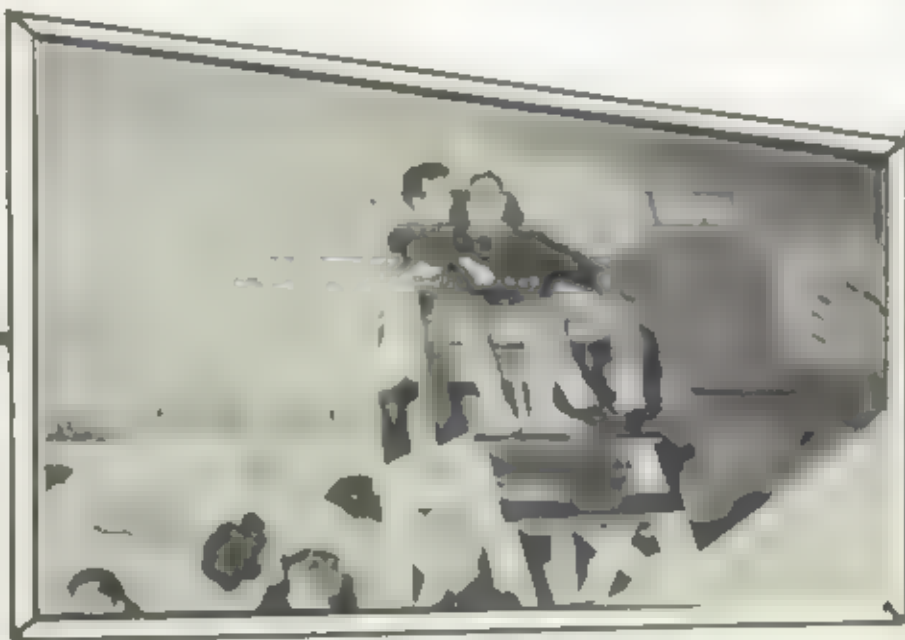

The aims of Mastbaum are like those of our nation, as aptly summed up by President Eisenhower in his speech in New Delhi, India, on December 10, 1959. "Before us we see long years of what can be a new era for mankind — in each year reaping a richer harvest from the fields of earth, gaining a more sure mastery of elemental power for human benefit, sharing an expanding commerce in goods, and in knowledge and wisdom, dwelling together in peace."

We have been prepared to this end. It is now up to us.

WASHINGTON TRIP

On April 10, 1959, the seniors took their much awaited trip to Washington, D. C. When the train pulled into the desired destination, two hundred students boarded the buses that took them on a tour throughout the Capital. The first stop was the Washington Monument, after which we took a tour of the White House. Following this, we enjoyed lunch at one of the largest restaurants in Washington. We then visited the Capitol Building, the Bureau of Engraving, the Lincoln Memorial, and the Marine Memorial.

We drove through Arlington Cemetery and then to the Tomb of the Unknowns, where we viewed the changing of the guards. We ended our day with dinner and entertainment at the Casino Royal.

Senior Day is a day looked forward to by each member of the graduating class. It is a day on which, according to tradition, the seniors are given an opportunity to bid farewell to their underclassmen.

The program includes several acts performed by the seniors, the presentation of awards, and last of all, the changing of seats—the seniors give up their place to those who are to succeed them.

Time marches on . . .

Hail! Hail! the red and blue . . .

Star light, star bright,

First star we've seen tonight . . .

On January 23, 1959, thanks to the art department, the gym was transformed into a wonderland of fluffy clouds and shining stars.

The music was provided by Bob Fredericks and we, as juniors, enjoyed our initial class activity. The Junior Prom, sponsored by Mr. Renshaw, was only an introduction to what was to come during one of the most important periods in our lives—our Senior Year at Mastbaum.

The Senior Prom, one of the highlights of the senior year, was held on December 5 at the Four Chefs. Ronny Andrews provided the music and the seniors danced until midnight, at which time Nancy Brooks was crowned Prom Queen. The Evening In Paris theme helped transport us into a Parisian Evening in Springtime. The music and decorations helped us to thoroughly enjoy the dreams that come only once in a lifetime — at the senior prom.

They played while we danced . . .

What should I take next???

Liquid refreshments . . .

Immediately following the prom, a buffet style breakfast was served. The foods were arranged in attractive patterns, and punch flowed from an ornamented fountain. The breakfast proved a wonderful climax to an exciting evening.

A toast to an Evening in Paris . . .

BREAKFAST

We ate too much . . .

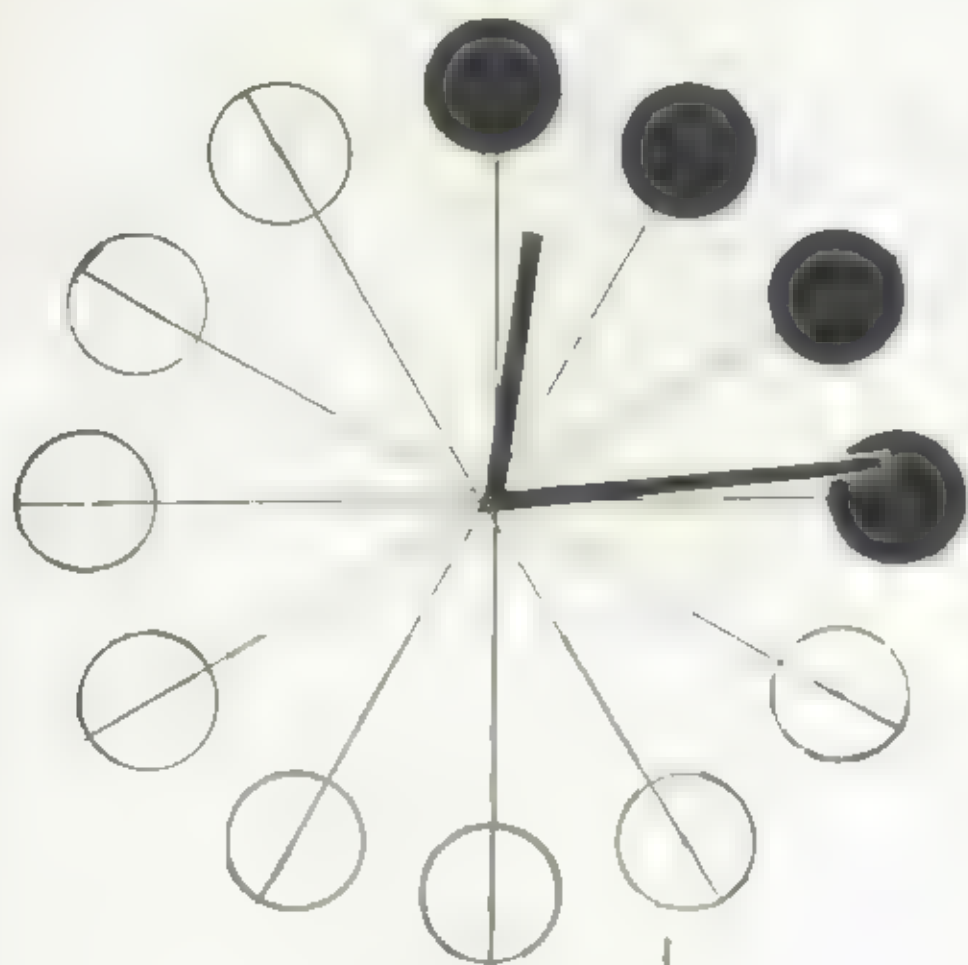

The Queen of Mastbaum's Senior Prom was Nancy Brooks. The honor and glory of this title was awarded to this ideal girl. She is a symbol of the beauty and loveliness of the girls who attended the Senior Prom.

CLASS OFFICERS,

June, 1960

We, the class of June, 1960, have our sights aimed high so that we can take a dynamic part in the future of our country. We know that by graduating from high school we have taken the first step into a world that is brimming with opportunities. Some of us will enter college, while others go directly into industry. No matter how far apart the paths of life may take us, our hearts will always recall the valuable experiences that we shared together during our three years at Mastbaum.

In this age it is our responsibility to aim high because the future of our country is greatly dependent upon us. To prepare us to fulfill our responsibilities, we have had a fine teaching staff here at school. Now as we are ready to venture forth we feel that we should express our gratitude to those who have guided and prepared us so well to face these responsibilities of citizenship in a complex era.

ACTIVITIES

"Student Officers At Ease"

STUDENT OFFICERS—Row 1, H. Bruenger, R. Sullivan. Row 2, L. Cohen, B. Galaska.

The student council is made up of representatives from each section, and is sponsored by Mr. W. Rudder. Every year the council backs various activities such as school dances, the United Fund Campaign, the annual clothing drive, and many others.

All the activities of the student council have met with success due to the excellent management, and the cooperation of the student body.

SENATORS—Row 1, J. Kline, B. Goushian, H. Johnson, R. Attewell, T. Wray, R. Rueblinger. Row 2, E. Klein, E. Mesí, A. Russell, E. Scholtz, B. Phufer, A. DeMarco.

ALTERNATES—Row 1, W. Labbe, C. Wilson, R. Woodside, J. Majer, R. Pierce. Row 2, J. Ziegler, G. Donnelly, L. Venafra, A. Stephens, E. Nero, W. Taylor.

All In A Days Work

STAGE CREW—G. Siewert, E. Bay, Mr. Walter, J. Burkhardt.

The boys behind the scenes of our assemblies, proms, graduations, and dances are the stage crew. Along with Mr. Walter, they are responsible for all technical difficulties which may arise, as well as their regular duties. The graduating classes appreciate the help received from these boys.

SENIOR MONITORS—Row 1, C. Miller, M. Waelz, A. McNaull, J. Ziegler, Mr. Wyre, C. Burch, M. Cross, D. Castro, H. Clarke. Row 2, E. McCall, C. Weimar, M. Vrato, D. Drobonick, E. Jethon, D. Shaw.

MONITORS—Row 1, M. Rataj, M. Morley, P. Jantzen, F. Labenz, K. McBride, S. Brown, M. Boecklen, A. Edwards. Row 2, C. Peahota, L. Wible, K. Brosius, M. Martin, J. Bell, M. Schmidt.

The Monitors play an important role in the smooth flow of traffic between the lunchroom, roof, and the rest of the building in our school. Under the supervision of Mr. Wyre and Mr. Rudder, they help keep our school more orderly and efficient.

Time out for a laugh

The Mast is our school newspaper. Its main objective is to inform the students as to what is happening around our school. It also gives outstanding students their due recognition for their fine achievements in the school. Mrs. Jameson, together with the aid of approximately twenty-five staff members and fifteen reporters, help make the Mast one of the finest school newspapers in the city. In all probability the Mast will undoubtedly remain as popular with the students in the future as it has in the past.

As we finish our high school education, we have two big steps to take, the first is graduation and the second is taking our places in the business world. We will always remember our friends, teachers, vice principals and our principal, Mr. Patterson. Our teachers and friends have helped us to reach this level in our education. They can no longer help us with our daily problems; we must now make decisions for ourselves.

Whatever our field of work may be, we know that Mastbaum has prepared us to do our job well. We are proud to be able to say that we were students at Mastbaum Vocational-Technical School. We have the privilege of looking back on the past and remembering all the fun we had at our Junior Prom, Senior Prom, on our long-awaited senior trip, and finally on our graduation day.

We, the Jem Staff of 1960, have made an all out effort to produce a yearbook that will be cherished. We hope that all who receive it will treasure it and never forget Mastbaum.

The Mastbaum sporting events are highlighted by the enthusiasm of our student body. The wonderful performance of the cheerleaders, colorguards, majorettes, and our panther all help to enhance our enjoyment of the games. All in all we give our thanks to those who participate in these activities.

A R O U N D

In May, 1959, the student body presented the play, "Rocko, the Boxer." This was a tremendous success.

The three-act play was the story of an Italian boxer who entered show business as a singer. The second act was a variety show, featuring many of Mastbaum's talented students. There were jugglers, line dancers, singers, and an Arthur Murray skit.

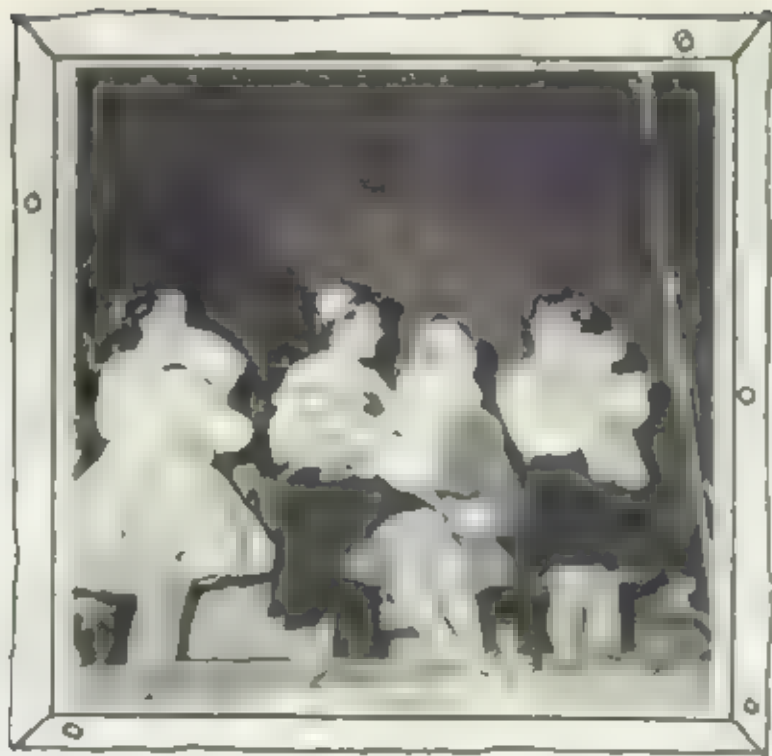

The play was written and produced by Mr. Lewis Klein of the English Department.

TO THE
GRADUATING CLASS OF JUNE 1960

WE THE GENERAL COMMERCE
GRADUATES OF JUNE 1960 EXTEND
BEST WISHES FOR FUTURE SUCCESS
TO OUR FELLOW GRADUATES

The Mastbaum Alumni Association proudly extends heartiest congratulations and every wish for success to the graduates of the Classes of January and June, 1960.

Lull not in contentment, easy satisfaction, or common ways, but rather pioneer, explore, seek new avenues . . .
be open to the never-ending lessons which life teaches.
Value life's wisdom dearly. Accept errors as counsel for future decisions, future responsibilities. The door is open.
Life begins. Step forward to accept the challenge of the future. Step to maturity.
